SWEET MEMORIES.

BY I. RUSSELL.

Oh, there are memories that throng So closely round my heart, That of its hidden, trembling strains They seem to form a part;
They're woven in with every dream
That haunt my nightly rest,
And nestle like a golden beam
Deep in my troubled breast.

O, there are memories that crowd And cluster in my brain,
That bind me gently to the past,
And make me young again;
The blooming wreath my childhood knew
Ere change had come or blight,
When each fair hud was wet with dew,
Each blossom crowned with light.

Sweet memories, ye gently now Are whispering to my heart, I feel your light upon my brow, In tears of rapture start; Ye tell me of the sun-lit hours; That flew so gayly on,
'Mid singing birds and fragrant flowers,
That bloomed without a thorn.

Ye tell me of the young—the fair, Who flitted around my path; I twine amidst their clustering hair A bright and glorious wreath; I listen to the warbled notes

That tremble on the tongue,
Till through my soul that music flows
Like strains by angels sung. O, stay then, gentle memories, Within my heart of hearts! And softly hush its heaving sigh, And dry the tear that starts.

O, hold, ye gentle memories, Your empire in my breast, 'Till death shall close my weary eyes And take me to its rest.

HOW BODIES ARE EMBALMED.

By embalming, people are generally apt to imagine that the modern process consists dead body with spices, gums, and other indestructible and preservative substances, as destructible and preservative substances, as same same nept will not same nept of saturating, filling and surrounding the destructible and preservative substances, as is understood to have been the process practiced by the ancients. Such, however, is not the case. The modern process is about as follows: The blood is drawn off thro' the jugular vein. An incision is then made upon the inside of the thigh, through which a chemical liquid is injected by mechanical means. The liquid permeates all the veins and arteries, taking the place before occupied by the blood, and in a short time renders the entire body as hard as stone, and as rigid as a statue. A portion of the scalp is removed, and the brain is What effect may have been produced in the southeastern portion of this State, where such visitations have been quite common, is as yet unknown. The earthquakes at and around New Madrid are matters of history; there lakes of water suddenly become high land, and trees standing upon high ground were at once hidden from view—and the whole surface for a great many miles was at once changed in position and appearance. ALL FOR THE BEST.

Dr. Johnson used to say that a habit of looking at the best side of every event is better than a thousand pounds a year. Bishop Hall quaintly remarks: 'For every bad there might be a worse; and when a man breaks his leg, let him be thankful that it was not his neck," When Fenelon's librative was not his neck," When Fenelon's librative was not his neck," When Fenelon's librative was not his neck, "When Fenelon's librative was not his neck," When Fenelon's librative was not his neck, "When Fenelon's librative was not his neck," When Fenelon's librative was not his neck, "When Fenelon's librative was not his neck," When Fenelon's librative was not his neck, "When Fenelon's librative was not his neck," When Fenelon's librative was not his neck, "When Fenelon's librative was not his neck, and when a man his neck, "When Fenelon's librative was not his neck, "When Fenelon's librative was not his neck, and when a man his neck, "When Fenelon's librative was not his neck, "When Fenelon's librative was not his neck, "When Fenelon's librative was not his neck, and when a man his neck, "When Fenelon's librative was not his neck, and have his 1 11 50 1 20 1 92 1 20 was not his neck." When Fenelon's library was on fire, "God be praised!" he exclaimed, "that it is not the dwelling of some poor man!" This is the true spirit of submission; one of the most beautiful traits that can possess the human heart. Resolve to see this world on its eunny side, and you have almost half won the battle of life at the outset.

disloyal institution, and shows that when the war broke out, eight hundred and twenty graduates were living, of whom only one hundred and ninety joined the rebels. Of these latter, all but nineteen were from the Southern States, while there were one hundred and thirty-three graduates from Southern States who remained loyal. This shows that the institution has promoted patriotism instead of disloyalty.

HUMAN NATURE .- "Is that the prisonor?" said one spectator to another, during a trial for manslaughter.

"Yes," was the reply.
"Ah! indeed! What a dreadful look he has, especially about the eyes! But who is that respectable looking young man at his side, in the green vest?" "In the green vest? Why that is the prisoner himself. The other man is his lawyer." "Well, now I do begin to see that the fellow in the green vest don't look so respectable after all. Indeed, he has just the air of
